Sophs Finish Customs Program For Women

On Monday, May 26, the Men and Women Sophomore Rulers and the representatives to the Men's and Women's Student Council met in Paisley Reception Room to discuss joint Freshmen Customs. After an hour's discussion and debate a number of joint "men and women" projects were planned by the members at this meeting.

Below is a list of the joint activities in which the frosh will participate, plus the basis for the Girls' Customs for next year.

Your UCO Program

Due to a cooperative spirit among the faculty, student governments, and students, there has been orientated a new initiation program for the class of 1962! However, the jobs only partly finished. Next year we shall have prove whether or not the expectation of our "sticking to our bargain" of attempting to maintain a helpful and understanding disposition in our dealings with the freshmen. It is not going to be an easy job by any means. It is going to be difficult, but, we have this assurance: If we earnestly work together and try to perform to the best of our ability the duties which are set before us, the program will be successful. There will be no one to blame except ourselves if this attempt fails! We can either make it or break it and it will be a discredit to all of us if we do not do our part to make it. Not one person, or two, or half a dozen can make our new system successful. We must do it together.

The present appellation of "Customs" has an undesirable connotation. Therefore, to begin at the root, it will greatly aid and abet us in maintaining our new attitude if we change this name. Consequently, the new name is UCO, Ursinus College Orientations. It sounds new and different but it is "catchy" and it is being hoped that we will accept this new name and adapt it to the new program. Your UCO program follows:

1. Dinks will be distributed on the Tuesday afternoon before Wednesday's class. Boys and girls will receive their dinks together.
2. Freshmen will learn the social and school rules.
3. Freshmen will remain on campus every weekend until homecoming so as to participate in weekend campus activities, unless, of course, for a good reason.
4. Freshmen girls, along with freshmen boys will attend practice lectures organized by professors in order to teach freshmen to take notes.
5. Freshmen and sophomore girls will participate in a "field day" consisting of various events which are competitive. A trophy will be presented to the winning class.
6. A freshman song will be taught to all the freshmen. (not derogatory)
7. Freshmen girls will be divided into three teams, Red, Old Gold and Black, for poster making and cheering competition at games and pep rallies.
8. There will be a "backwards" day for all freshmen girls.
9. Freshmen boys and girls will eat together every evening at dinner until the regular seating arrangements start.

Men's Student Government Holds Final Meeting of Second Semester

On Monday, May 26, the Men's Student Government Association held its last official meeting of the school year. The most important item on the agenda was the picking of proctors. After a half-hour discussion, the proctors were chosen for all the dormitories except Stine and Freeland. The decision of who would become proctor of these dormitories was left up to the Dean of Men, G. Sieber Pancoast. After this proceeding it was voted to allot Fred Glauser enough money to pay for the printing of booklets that will contain the Men's Student Government Rules, the dormitory and proctor rules, the parking rules, and the college regulations.

During this meeting the Men's Student Government held a trial for four students in 724 who had been charged with rule 4 (water throwing) and rule 12 (disturbance and annoyance of other students). After proceedings had been underway for a few moments, it was decided to drop the water throwing charges on grounds of insufficient evidence. The proctor who had reported the men stated that he had not brought charges against all four men, only three of them. One of the defendants was acquitted due to lack of charges. The other three were found guilty on charge 4. Each man received two work-hours to be completed before Saturday, June 7.

During the remainder of the meeting the representatives discussed customs and decided to have committee meetings over the summer. The first meeting will be held this Wednesday, June 11, with Mr. Hudnut at

R. G. Dunlop Addresses Seniors At Graduation

Stresses Freedom As The Doorway To Unlimited Opportunity To 154 Seniors

In his address to the graduating class of Ursinus College, entitled "Freedom, the Door to Opportunity," Robert G. Dunlop, who has been president of Sun Oil Company since 1947, traced the heritage of freedom we have come by through references to biographies recently published by Catherine Drinker Bowen. Dr. Dunlop, explaining that "... it is only as you understand and enjoy freedom that you will find the opportunities in life that you are seeking," delineated the evolution of freedom through consideration of the lives of Sir Edward Coke, John Adams, and Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, all subjects of Mrs. Bowen's books. Dr. Dunlop showed how the ideas of these men were related to or influenced by those of the others and how the origin of their ideas finds its way back to the ideas of the Christian faith and the ideas of the Apostle Paul.

Dr. Dunlop then applied these notions of freedom to life in America today. He said, "The surest way you young people have of retaining the freedom that you inherited is by recognizing and seizing the opportunities that ... freedom of words". He went on to warn against confusing liberty with license and liberty with security. He then explained the fundamental importance of freedom of choice. The people who established this college knew that there was only one freedom, freedom of choice. What we term economic freedom, intellectual freedom, political freedom, or religious freedom, are simply manifestations of individual freedom of choice ... None stand alone, for each is but a strand forming together the fabric of individual freedom of choice. Cut or destroy one strand and the others unravel, until the whole fabric is gone."

Factors of success, declared Dr. Dunlop, are integrity and industry. Success is impossible without moral character and integrity. "One's motives and manner of conduct must be above question and elemental trustworthiness must be present and be practiced. Integrity of character involves a kind heart, a charitable concern for others, and a steadiness of mind. Industry is the means to intellectual growth as well as the basis of contentment. Diligent effort in our daily pursuits is the price we pay for achievement."

Dr. Dunlop concluded, "As one privileged to work with young people over almost three decades, my convictions of the significance of integrity of character and industriousness is the certain road to spiritual contentment, intellectual growth, and usefulness to mankind, have been reaffirmed many times over ... May you see Freedom as the door to your opportunities."

URSINUS ANNOUNCES SUMMER SCHOOL

According to Dean William S. Pettit, Ursinus College will once again offer a summer program for students who are regularly enrolled at Ursinus or at other colleges who wish to earn credits toward an early completion of college work. The summer session will extend eight weeks, from July 7 to August 29.

It is possible for a student to carry 9 semester hours of course work which is slightly more than half the normal load for a semester. Classes are held Monday through Friday.

Courses will be offered in: Organic Chemistry, Economics, Education, English Literature, History, Philosophy, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, and advanced Spanish.

More than fifty years ago Ursinus began its summer school, and was one of the first of the liberal arts colleges in Pennsylvania to offer a summer program. Normally the enrollment is about 100. More than half of the students live at the College during the summer, but many reside at their homes and commute daily to classes.

"Recollections"

By the time you read this paper all the type that was used in printing it will be in the "morgue" and the Staff will have dispersed to various parts of the country for the summer to either sleep or work. Since this is the end of another term I see no harm in pausing a moment and taking a quick glance over my shoulder to see what has been accomplished in the past year at Ursinus. The glance will be quick and the recapitulation will be swift and on the light side so don't be afraid to stick with me for a while.

The most striking thing I can recall about this past year is the new girl's dormitories. I don't mean the dorms size or appearance . . . I mean the activity at these humble abodes when the clock struck 10:30 P.M. on week-days and 12:30 on week-ends. You could actually tell time by the confusion that was taking place. At 12:28 all would be quiet (although once in a while one of the multitude of cars that were distributed randomly in front of the dorms would have its horn go off). At 12:29 car doors would fly open and everyone would rush for their respective dorms. At 12:30 there would be some rushed good-byes (and some were heart-rendering, as if the couples were parting for life). And at 12:31 all would be quiet as the last Ursinus man walked slowly into the darkness and back to his room.

Another memorable experience, that most seniors won't forget for a time, were the snowball fights after the meals (provided there was snow on the ground). To a stranger witnessing this scene of mass confusion he might imagine a "war of the worlds" was taking place.

The funniest event of the school year occurred during the "big snowstorm". Besides the Junior Prom (appropriately titled "Spray of Springtide") being cancelled due to twenty inches of snow, the lights on campus blew out for two days and one riotous night. The rush for candles was beyond belief. Everyone looked like the chap in the Good-year ad (except most of the students were not carrying tires). The "social establishments" around Collegeville had more business that night than they had for the entire school year.

These things and more you, seniors, will remember long after you have forgotten the names of your professors, the courses you took, and the activities in which you participated. All these events and others, plus the essentials of education, make Ursinus what it is.

A Commencement Sonnet

by Art King

In every pulse-beat of the heart of time there is some joy; some sorrow, too, is fed.
As certain as the exigencies of rhyme,
another academic year has fled,
leaving its rhythms deep within the soul.
the chronicles of dormitory life shall not return for some; may these control some measure of their destiny in that strife which is the world—and do it nobly, too!
There're signs of truth along the road of fate;
and visions of the ideal command the view . . .
With hopes, O class of 1958,
that you will see them, Godspeed! for an age can still be golden, though dark stormclouds rage.

Graduation

by Lin Drummond

The end of another year at Ursinus has rolled around. To many of us it signifies only a brief respite before our summer jobs, seeing many of our friends at home, or a summer of pure liesure—thanks to the recession!

But to the senior if signifies the end of campus "life" as they stand on the threshold of future success—or failure. The graduates are entering an era of space travel and of man's struggle to achieve peace and maintain freedom. It will be a period when the US stands on the possible brink of disaster if it is not unified spiritually as well as scientifically. And it will be the task of these graduates, as of all graduates all over the country, to unify the nation in an effort to achieve universal peace.

In order to achieve such a goal the citizens must be equipped with the proper tools. Ursinus has dutifully pledged itself to equipping the student with these tools. The professors have given much of their time and co-operation to help the students academically and, as well, in the promotion of clubs and activities. And, as is an advantage of a small college, the student has been able to receive private instruction on an informal basis. For these reasons, Ursinus has been highly rated by members of the business and professional fields.

Ursinus is not always "all work and no play". Traditional events, athletics, plays, and social affairs provide relaxation and enjoyment, which is so necessary to the college student. These activities develop and add to the personality that the student will carry with him the remainder of his life.

In short, Ursinus provides itself in educating the student academically and spiritually. The

Human Predicament

by Jay Salwen

Man finds himself here on earth. That is the only thing that he really knows and occasionally he is not too sure of that. Why is he here? What is he to do about it? and How is he to go about doing it?, are questions which he finds impossible to answer. He does not even know where to begin. I am, he says, above animals. I can reason, feel emotions, strive to improve myself, not only materially, but also mentally. This drive for knowledge lifts me above the rest of creation. I have morals. And these morals are independent of me, the individual, for they are found universally over the earth. And they seem to be independent of the people themselves for each generation has new moral standards, but the true and lasting ones are above temporary opinion. But where did these come from? They are far above us; therefore, they must have been set up for us by a superhuman being—God.

For myself, I like the logic. Not only that, but many things I do and feel lead me in the same direction. How utterly worthless it is to strive for high ideals, to fight for morals and their improvement over large areas of the globe unless they are the lasting truths. I can reason it all. But I cannot believe it. There are too many "ifs" involved. If there is a God; If He created us intentionally; If He can control what happens to us; If He cares what happens to us; and, If He wills it. Man may have a purpose, but he will never know that he does or what it is because it is impossible to answer any one of the "ifs" let alone all of them.

Man is here. And that is all he really knows. He has faith in his logic, but he knows that it is nothing more than faith. He becomes a broad individual not because it is his purpose in life, but because it gives him personal satisfaction. He studies history not because he must, but because he wants to. He plays athletics not because he feels an ultimate reality driving him in that direction, but because it gives him enjoyment. Maybe self-satisfaction is the ultimate reality.

Is there any purpose to the intellectual search for the answer? Ideas? Thought? No, if he is searching for purpose in life or the reason he has been created. Unless it is to give the individual the feeling that he is at least trying his best to find out (i.e., self-satisfaction). If he is searching for the answers to real problems which confront him—segregation, cold war, juvenile delinquency—he can, in time, approach an answer. Perhaps the closest we have come to an answer is the realization that man must work together. Alone he is insecure and unstable. Together, with a bond of mutual trust, men are able to rise above man. But this bond of trust is very hard to achieve. Man knows himself to well. Still, he knows that he cannot live alone, so in spite of what man "knows" of man, he is still able to have faith. That is why NATO and SEATO were able to be formed less than two decades after Czechoslovakia was sold to Germany. The East and West have not been able to meet on this same level of faith, but the fact that the democracies have, saved their very existence. Man cannot stand alone. He must have faith; he must believe in something. Perhaps that is the ultimate reality. It could be. But how do we find it? How do we achieve it? And how do we know?

:: SPORTS TALK ::

The spring sports season just completed was a very successful one for the Bear athletes. No team could be said to have had a bad season and two, the Women's Tennis Team and the Men's Baseball Team had very successful seasons. The tennis team went undefeated for the second consecutive year while the baseball team finished with a 10-5 record for a .667 percentage. These records stand out even more so because, as we all know, the emphasis at Ursinus is on schoolastics rather than athletics.

With this year gone, we look forward to the fall and a new group of sports. The Football team will be entering the newly formed Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Conference. The Soccer team will have its usual league competition as will the Girl's Hockey team. Good luck to the boys in their attempts to improve last years record and to the girls in keeping up their fine performances of the past.

The Captains of next year's teams have been chosen: Bob Shmoyer and Bob Angstadt (soccer), Jack Prutzman and Pete Smith (wrestling), Cal Fox (track), and Wally Christ (baseball). These men were elected by their teammates not only for their athletic ability, which all of them have, but also for their leadership qualities and never-say-die spirit. These are important attributes to any one in a leaders position, and unfortunately not everyone is lucky enough to be endowed with them. These men have a goodly share, and with the help of those around them should lead their respective teams to highly successful seasons. (The Captains for Baseball, Basketball, and Tennis have not yet been chosen.)

Baseball Squad Ends Good Season; Holds Banquet

The Ursinus College Baseball Team finished the 1958 season with a record of 10 wins and 5 losses. The team played a fine brand of baseball and our heartiest congratulations are extended to Coach G. Sieber Pancoast and the players.

The following statistics were compiled by the Ursinus scorekeeper, George Herman. The team batting average was .296 while the fielding average was .947.

Jim Wenhold led the club in hitting (.373) and fielding (.972). He was tied for the most hits with Inky Wagner with 19 and led the team in triples with 6.

Co-captain Bob Famous hit (.327), led the team in runs scored (19) and in RBI's (15). He was also tied for the most home runs (2) with Inky Wagner and Bob Cauffman.

Co-captain Wally Christ hit (.306) while batting in 13 runs and leading the team in doubles with 5.

Lin Drummond was the leading pitcher on the staff with a 4-0 record and a 0.98 ERA.

The 1958 baseball season came to a successful close Wednesday, May 28, when the annual banquet was held in the college dining hall. Previous to the meal, Coach G. Sieber Pancoast played host to the team at his home. Highlights of the season were discussed and the most valuable player and next year's captain were chosen.

Through the year the Bear squad achieved an impressive record of 10-5. The team, co-captained by Bob Famous and Wally Christ, played fine ball through the season and was a worthy representative of the college.

Co-captain Bob Famous was chosen as most valuable player for his fine playing at third base and his accomplishments at the plate. His ability and value to the team is best exemplified by the fact that at the close of the season he was signed to an organized baseball contract in the Cincinnati Reds system.

Other fine playing was contributed by catcher Wally Christ, first baseman Jim Wenhold, pitcher Lin Drummond, and shortstop Inky Wagner. Really the whole team should be mentioned here because when one person wasn't producing, there was always someone else taking up the slack.

The team elected Wally Christ to captain the squad for next year. With the experience Wally received as co-captain this season and most of the team is returning next year, Ursinus should again be well represented on the baseball diamond.

We'd like to pay tribute to our departing players (Bob Famous, Bob Cauffman and Larry Powell) and wish them the best of luck in their future endeavors.

Netmen Complete Mediocre Season; Won 3 Matches

The men's tennis team ended their 1958 season with a 3 and 5 record. Three matches were cancelled due to rain and several others had to be re-scheduled. U.C. lost to F&M 6-3, Haverford 9-0, LaSalle 5-4, Delaware 7-0 and Albright 7-2 while they defeated Moravian 5-4, Wilkes 7-2, and Elizabethtown 6-3.

Coach Sid Quin is losing two men through graduation, Captain Gene Morita, number two man and Bob Gilgor, number five man. Rather than look at the last season's 3-5 record, Coach Quin has his eyes on the nucleus of four remaining players, two of whom are Freshmen and next year's incoming class. Remaining are juniors, Art Martella, number one, and Shel Wagman, number 3 and Freshmen, Boros Broz, number four, and Larry Habgood, number six.

At the start of the season 15 students showed up for practice, a rather sizable number considering the other spring sports and turnouts in previous years. UC will be counting on these players, the returning varsity men and the incoming students to provide us with a winning tennis season next spring.

'58 Girls' Tennis Team Unbeaten

The Varsity Tennis Team did a commendable job this spring, going undefeated in six matches. Captained by Carol LeCato and coached by Jen Shillingford, they chalked up the second undefeated season in a row.

They defeated four opponents by a score of 5-0. They were West Chester, Bryn Mawr, Penn and Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Rosemont was handily defeated 4-1. The one close call for the team was the match with Swarthmore which was pulled out, after a grueling afternoon, 3-2.

The Junior Varsity's record for the season was three wins and two losses. They defeated Gwynedd-Mercy 4-1, Swarthmore 3-2, and Penn 3-2. The losses were to Bryn Mawr 4-1 and to West Chester 3-2.

The Junior Varsity showed a lot of potential for next year. A couple of the Junior Varsity players saw action on the Varsity—giving them the experience to fill in the one vacancy left by Rene Rawcliffe, this year's graduating senior. With only one player leaving the squad, next year's prospects for both teams look very good.

B. Famous Signs Reds Pro. Baseball Contract

Bears Football, Baseball Star
Inks Cincy Bonus for "About $25,000"

Bob Famous, who has had major league baseball scouts on his trail for six years, has cast his lot with the Cincinnati Redlegs' organization.

Famous, a former star athlete at Souderton High who has concluded four years of outstanding football and baseball efforts here at Ursinus College, signed a Cincinnati contract calling for a bonus figure "in the vicinity of $25,000" on May 27. Famous, the father of two children, will graduate with his class on June 9.

The contract is with the Nashville franchise of the Southern Association and the young infielder will report to Albuquerque.

Cindermen Show Improvement Despite Injuries

The 1958 track team (3-5) was the first team since 1942 and only the third since 1928 to win three meets in one season. The victories, gained in the last half of the season, came against Washington, Muhlenberg and Lebanon Valley, while the losses were suffered at the hands of Haverford, Franklin and Marshall, Swarthmore, Dickinson and Bucknell and Albright in a triangular meet.

A big disappointment of the season was the fact that Captain Ken Buggeln was unable to compete because of a thigh injury. Ken, who previous to this year, ran the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, and the 440 yard run in time of 9.9 sec., 21.5 sec., and 51.0 sec. respectively, pulled his muscle on three different occasions during the season. In addition to Ken the team will lose low hurdler, javelin thrower and broad jumper, Dick Dickerson; quarter-miler, Jerry Crossley; shot putter, Warren North; hurdler, Mark Weand and distance man, Joe Davies.

Although some outstanding men will be graduating, next year's team could win five meets, but should win at least three again. The success of the 1959 season will depend primarily on Captain-elect and dashman, Cal Fox; speedster, Lynn Graburn; distance men, Vern Morgan, Fred Genter and Bob Scheidler. Also important to the team's future successes are hurdler, Clem Anderson; weightman, Al Walton; high jumpers, Bob Brumfiel and Denny Gould; and pole-vaulter, Bob Peterson. Freshmen Morgan, Walton and Gould will probably be breaking school records within the next three years.

que, New Mexico, of the Class A Western League.

Next Spring, Famous will report with the parent Cincinnati club at its Tampa, Fla., training camp.

Fifteen of the 16 major league clubs were in the bidding for Famous. He first attracted attention as a schoolboy and Junior Legion baseballer at Souderton.

Erle Baugher, prominent football and baseball coach at Ambler High School, a scout for the Redlegs since 1951, had Bob under surveillance since his junior year at Souderton High. Baugher works under Eddie Liberatore, of Abington, the supervising Cincinnati scout for the Middle Atlantic States.

They would not reveal the exact bonus paid Famous, but did say it was a five-figure contract "in the vicinity of $25,000."

They said the Cincinnati organization was most happy to obtain the young man's services.

Here at Ursinus, Bob is kept busy not only by his athletic endeavors, but also by several other extra-curricular activities. He was vice-president of Alpha Phi Epsilon fraternity and a member of the Varsity club. Bob was chosen to represent Ursinus in the Inter-Collegiate Who's Who publication.

Lacrosse Team Takes Two Games

By looking at the win-loss column of the Lacrosse Team, it would appear that the season was unsuccessful. Yet the team made such strides in the development of skills and had such outstanding teamwork that the season cannot be called unsuccessful. The team defeated both Swarthmore and Drexel by decisive margins—13-4, 12-4. The three losses came at the hands of West Chester 11-7, Beaver 8-7 and Temple 4-3. Highscorer for the season was freshman Nancy Kromboltz.

The team this year was made up mostly of freshmen and Sophmores. The team will be losing two players through graduation—Pat Woodbury and Sue Justice. With many returning Varsity letter-winners, coach Marge Watson, is looking forward to a good season next year.

Girl's Softball Team Play Fifty-Fifty Ball

The softball team, hampered by lack of practice and rained-out games, played only two intercollegiate games this spring. In the Varsity's opening game, they defeated Beaver without any trouble 15-4. The second game, with West Chester, was not so successful for Ursinus. Hampered by lack of practice the fielders committed many errors, and the game was lost 9-1. The Junior Varsity also lost by a wide margin to West Chester, 19-3.

The team consisted of many underclassmen and freshmen. With a year's experience behind them, they could prove to be a strong team next year.
